Integration Courses Learn German, experience Germany

New integration courses begin at the ISK at the start of every month. You have the choice between general integration courses, courses teaching you how to read and write and youth integration courses. All courses end with an orientation course and the final LiD (Leben in Deutschland = Living in Germany) examination and the DTZ (German Test for Immigrants). All our integration courses help you to improve your German language skills and knowledge of the German legal system and society is imparted. This knowledge is consolidated and deepened in the orientation courses.

Advising | Placement

Every participant is invited to take a placement test free of charge, which ensures that you get the course that corresponds to your current language skills. We can help you to fill out your application, to apply for a costs exemption and will answer your questions regarding travel costs.

Migration advising

In cooperation with the Migration Advisory Centers of the Hannover Region, the AWO, Caritas, the Diakonisches Werk and the Landsmannschaft der Deutschen aus Russland (for Germans coming from Russia), we offer a specially supported advising session once a week. The specially trained staff from the Migration Advisory Centers advise and support you in everyday questions, financial and family problems and accompany you during your integration into German society and the German job market.

Integration Courses at a Glance

- New courses from A1-B1 every month
- Cooperation with the migration info centers
- Reading area and internet café
- DTZ final exam as proof of language proficiency
- LiD final exam for naturalization

Social support

Our social support system accompanies our participants in the learning process. Our guidance counsellors discuss your learning situation with you and help you develop strategies to improve your German language skills. Participants can obtain information about getting support services in person or via video conference. The guidance counsellors at the ISK support you in problem situations and will try to answer any questions you may have regarding everyday life.

Team teaching

During team teaching in the literacy courses, two teachers teach a course at the same time so that the participants can repeat and consolidate what they have learned, practice their pronunciation and prepare specifically for the exam in small groups (3-4 people).

Please visit our website to find the latest information on our courses.
